

CNBC news monitors

Digital companion pieces were needed to highlight topics during news segments. These monitors could be positioned different ways throughout the set, but they all had to tell a clear, concise story.

Eye-catching imagery & bold text treatments transformed the channel's hero font to fit any story they needed to tell.

